6. Recipients of personal data
Within our company, access to data is granted to those individuals who need it to fulfil the above-mentioned purposes. This also applies to service providers and vicarious agents deployed by us. We only transmit personal data to third parties if this is necessary for the aforementioned purposes or if you have given your consent beforehand. Processors are involved in accordance with the provisions of Art. 28 GDPR.
Recipients of personal data may, for example, be planning and engineering offices, surveyors, construction companies, authorities, courts, notary's offices and grid operators.

7. Transfer to a third country
Should data be transferred to a third country, this is carried out in accordance with the relevant data protection requirements of Chapter 5 GDPR. If such a transfer to a third country is envisaged in your specific case, you will be notified accordingly, stating the guarantees and protection measures taken.

8. Duration of data storage
Your personal data will be deleted as soon as the storage purpose no longer applies. Data may also be stored if this has been provided for by the European or national legislator in EU regulations, laws or other provisions to which we are subject as controller. Data may also be deleted if a storage period prescribed by the said standards expires, unless there is a need to continue storing the data for the conclusion or performance of a contract.

9. Right of access, right to rectification, restriction of processing, deletion, objection to and revocation of consent
You are entitled to be informed about the personal data stored about you, their origin and recipients as well as the purpose of storage. You may request the rectification or deletion or the restriction of the processing of your data if the data are factually incorrect or their processing is not (or no longer) permissible. You may also be entitled to the restriction of processing if Amprion GmbH no longer requires the data but you need these data to assert, exercise or defend legal claims. If we process your data on the basis of balancing interests, you are entitled to object to the processing thereof. You are entitled to withdraw your declaration of consent under data protection law at any time. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of the processing thereof based on consent before it is withdrawn.
You are also entitled to data portability. Please use the contact details listed under No. 12 to exercise your rights.

10. Right of appeal to a supervisory authority
Without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy, you are entitled to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State of your habitual residence, place of work or place of the alleged infringement, if you consider that the processing of personal data relating to you infringes the GDPR.
